Hire a UW Ph.D.

Students on the Academic Market for 2017-2018

University of Washington, Seattle is pleased to present candidates on the 2017-2018 academic market. Below we provide their brief profiles: dissertation abstract, dissertation committee members, resume, list of publications, teaching experience, and contact email. Should you have any questions, please contact these candidates or their dissertation committee chairs, Susanne Recordon (Placement Coordinator), or Professor Aseem Prakash (2017-2018 Placement Director).

Candidate Fields of Study

- Hind Ahmed Zaki
  Comparative Politics, Middle East Politics, Law and Society, Social Movements, Gender and Sexuality

- Carolina Johnson
  American Politics, Civic Engagement, Comparative Politics, Political Communication, Political Methodology, Public Policy, Quantitative Methods, Statistics

- Filiz Kahraman
  Comparative Politics, Courts, European Politics, Human Rights, Labor, Law and Society, Legal Mobilization, Public Law, Social Movements, International Law and Institutions

- Jason Lambacher
  Political Theory, Global Environmental Politics, Comparative Public Law

- Meredith Loken
  Comparative Politics, Feminism and Feminist Theory, Gender, Human Rights, International Relations, International Security, Law and Society, Political Methodology, Public Law

- Caterina Rost
  American Political Development, American Politics, Political Methodology, Civic Engagement, Political Communication

- Yu Sasaki
  Comparative Politics, Political Economy, Political Methodology, Ethnicity, Nationalism, State-building, Europe