EDUCATION ROME APPLICATION OPEN

Submitted by Colleen Park on January 29, 2020 - 2:09pm

The Education Rome 2020 Exploration Seminar is in its third year and currently accepting applications with a priority deadline of Friday, February 15th.

It is a 3-week program based at the UWRome Center (right in the heart of the Italian capital) that explores the impact of historical and contemporary concepts of gender and multiculturalism. Students then use those concepts and social constructs to compare educational pipelines/life trajectory in both the U.S. and Italy via small field research projects and photo elicitation. As an interdisciplinary program, there is a keen interest in admitting students from a wide range of majors/disciplines.

Attached is a PDF flyer with basic descriptive information. Additionally, if interested, the application and more detailed information can be found at this link.

I hope this message finds you all keeping warm and dry. Thanks in advance for any time and help spreading the word to your students and please let me know if you/they have questions.
