

EMPIRE, NATION, AND RELIGION:

JEWISH, CHRISTIAN, AND MUSLIM MIGRATIONS TO AMERICA

ABOUT THE COURSE:

East meets West. The Mediterranean, the Atlantic, and the Pacific worlds intersect as we trace the itineraries of hopeful migrants from Istanbul, to New York, to Seattle. Join our exploration of the themes of empire, nation, religion, and race as we delve into the experiences of Jewish, Christian and Muslim immigrants from the Ottoman Empire and the Middle East to the United States during the twentieth century.

NOTES:

- > Gateway course for the History department
- > Creative multimedia assignment options available
- > Counts towards Jewish Studies Major and Minor
- > Field trips to sites of interest in Seattle.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY
UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON

COURSE #:

HSTCMP 290 / JSIS C 254

CREDITS:

5 - I&S

DATES:

M W 1:30-3:20pm

INSTRUCTOR:

PROF. DEVIN NAAR

EMAIL: denaar@uw.edu

OFFICE: Thomson Hall 226

OH: By Appointment

Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies

STROUM CENTER FOR JEWISH STUDIES

Visit us at jewishstudies.washington.edu