

Are you interested in nature preschools, forest kindergartens, and/or outdoor environmental education for young children?

Join us for a guest lecture featuring faculty from Queen Maud University, Norway to learn more about ECFS 499: PlayScapes for Learning, Health, and Relationships in Early Childhood Development & Education*

Thursday, May 4th, 4:30-5:30 (refreshments served)

RSVP <https://tinyurl.com/lg4t6d6>

Do you wonder about the goals and benefits for all children to such an approach?

What do we know about race and class inequities in access to nature and green spaces for children and families?

Course offering: Winter & Spring 2018, NW Credit, 1-2 credits per quarter. UW students who attend this event will be given priority enrollment for ECFS 499 in Winter & Spring 2018

For a beginning read on this topic, see: Strife, S., & Downey, L. (2009). Child development and access to nature. Organization and Environment, 22, 1, pp. 99-122. Retrieved from <https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC3162362/pdf/nihms317124.pdf>

*Students must enroll in both quarters. Open to non-matriculated and UW graduate students.